

North Dakota Leadership Seminar (NDLS) is a volunteer-led non-profit dedicated to teaching leadership and community service skills to high school sophomores. Since its inception in 1981, NDLS has empowered over 4,000 North Dakota students to unlock their leadership potential and become agents of positive change in their communities. Taking place May 30-June 1 at the University of Jamestown, the three-day program focuses on leadership, motivation and volunteerism by providing interactive discussions with ND community and business leaders. In addition, all NDLS students are encouraged to volunteer 100 hours of community service in the year following the seminar. Each high school in the state has the opportunity to select one 10th grader to attend the program at no cost to the student or the school. NDLS is more than just a seminar; it's a catalyst for personal growth and community impact. However, our ability to continue offering this experience hinges on the generosity of sponsorships from businesses.
